Marshals of 1953

The honor of serving as commencement marshals this year goes to the following students:

Tony Vaughn, Chief Marshal; Anne Hamor and Gail Hobson from the Eleventh Grade; Eloise Garner and Betty Ruth Robertson from the Tenth Grade; Talton Ray and Catherine Vest from the Ninth Grade.

American Legion Award

Each year the American Legion honors two students for their record as good citizens in school. The two students chosen this year are Geneva Black and Wendell Wathen, members of the junior class.

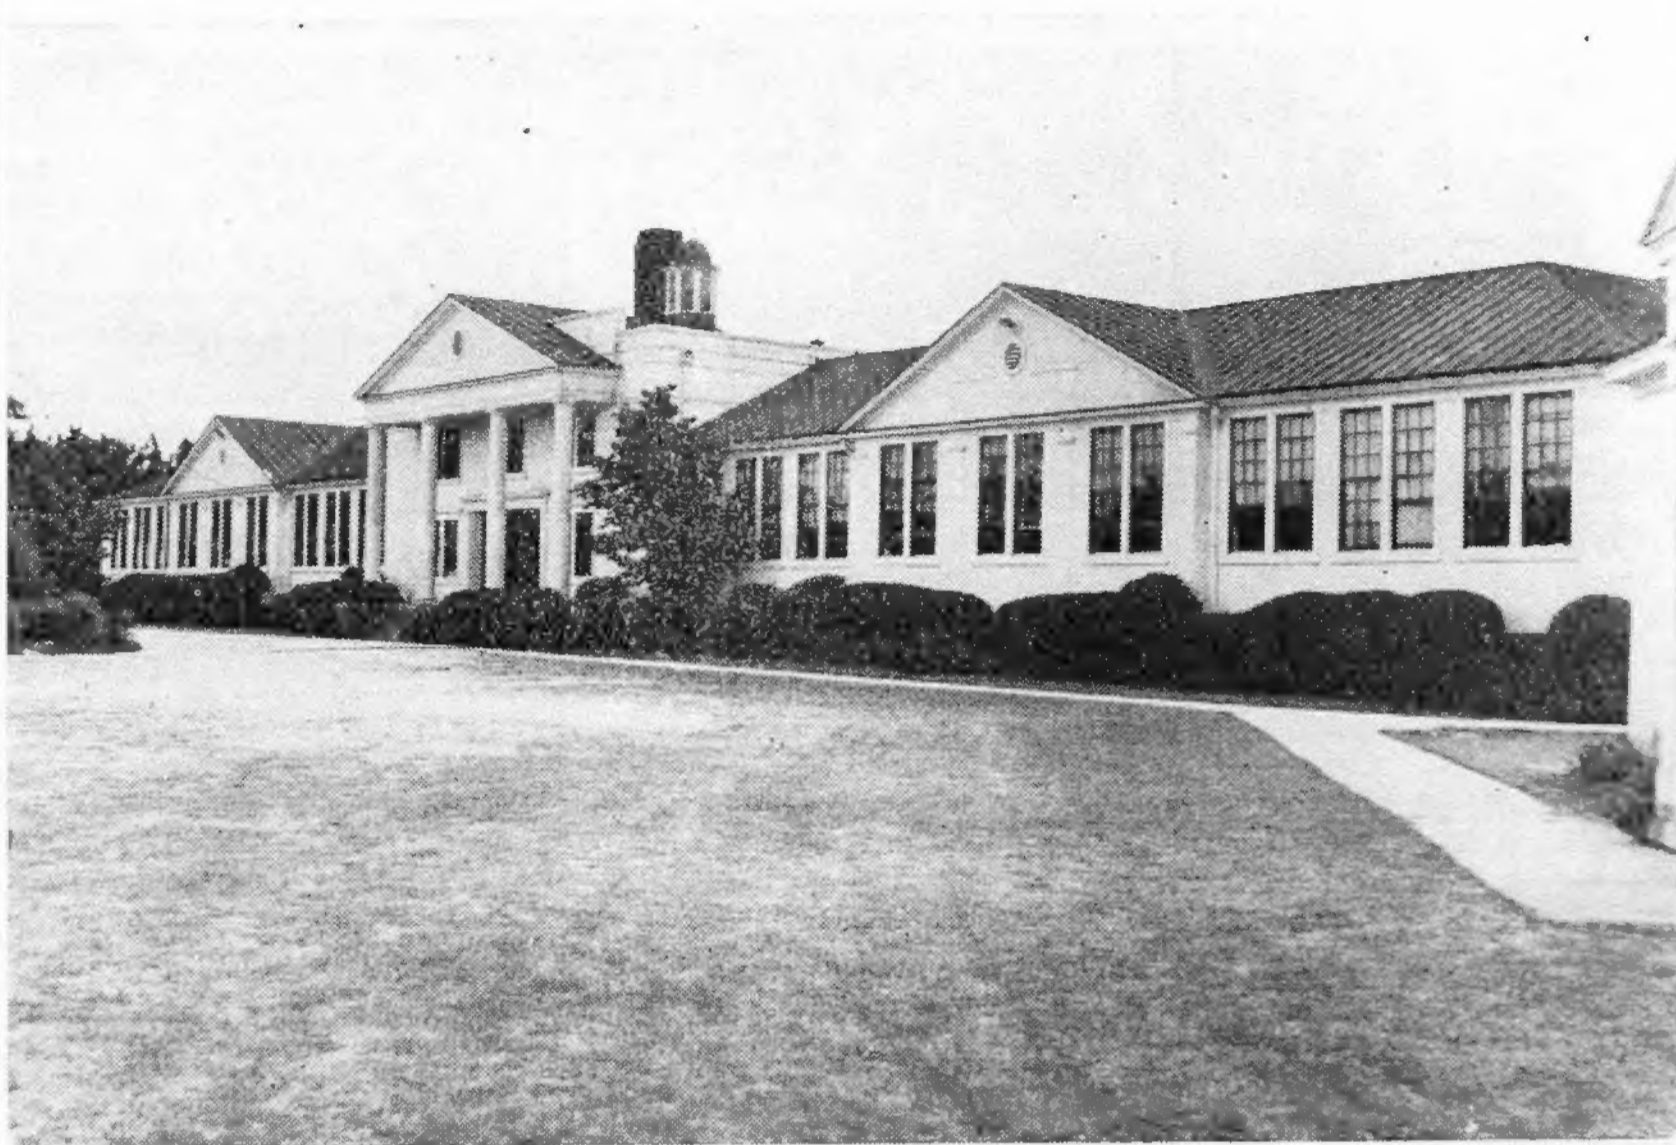

Not only have both these students made good records in their school work, but they have been at all times cooperative, courteous, and dependable. Geneva and Wendell are students of whom their families and teachers are proud. Geneva is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Black, and Wendell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Wathen, Pinehurst, N. C.

Gift From the Senior Class

As is the custom, the Senior Class is leaving a gift to the school. The gift this year is a handsome plastic leather couch in a beautiful shade of rust. This couch will be placed in the hall of the high school building and will be enjoyed by visitors who drop in and by anyone who has time for a moment's relaxation.

This couch was bought with the proceeds from the senior play, "Girl Shy", which was presented by the class at the Pinehurst Theater on May 1. The play was directed by Miss Lillian Morris. It is interesting to know that this play had a larger attendance than any play we have presented before.

TUFTS LOYALTY AWARD

THOMAS SHEPHERD

GAIL HOBSON

The coveted Tufts Loyalty Award goes this year to two juniors, Gail Hobson and Thomas Shepherd. This award is presented each year by the family of the late Leonard Tufts to the boy and the girl in the upper classes of Pinehurst School who have shown most loyalty to their school and its standards.

Gail was born in New York, August 17, 1936. She became a member of the junior class in the fourth grade. She is now vice president of the Student Council, vice-president of the junior class, and a commencement marshal.

Thomas Shepherd, born in Fayetteville, May 7, 1936, has been a member of the junior class for the past eleven years. He is now a member of the Beta Club and the Glee Club; and he has held various offices in his class. Tom was winner of the medal given by the local Lions' Club for the best talk prepared and presented by a high school student on the topic, "The United Nations and Its Achievements."

TRIP TO WASHINGTON

RANDOLPH BLACK

At 8:25 a. m., May 6, 1953, a bus and two cars loaded to the limit with juniors, seniors, teachers, and baggage left Pinehurst for a four-days trip to Williamsburg, Va. and Washington, D. C. Thus began the annual "Junior-Senior trip."

After a long ride with a short break for lunch, we arrived in Williamsburg and went directly to the reception center. After an hour or so we went to our rooming places, and later on we had dinner at the William and Mary College Cafeteria. That night we attended a movie.

Next morning we were shown a movie describing Williamsburg. After seeing this we were taken on a tour of the town. It was like turning back the pages of history to see this little town restored to its colonial days' appearance. What a wonderful thing Mr. Rockefeller has done for us! After lunching at the college cafeteria we resumed our journey, reaching Washington about 5:00 o'clock, a tired but happy and excited bunch.

After we were given our rooms, we unpacked our bags, cleaned up and went to Thompson's Cafeteria for supper. That evening we were free. Some of the group went on a cruise down the Potomac; others went to a three dimensional movie.

Friday morning we visited the Lincoln Museum, which originally was Ford's Theater, where Lincoln was assassinated. After leaving there we went on a conducted tour of the F. B. I. building. This proved very interesting to everyone. The Smithsonian Institution was next on our schedule, and we enjoyed looking at the relics on display there. The group spread out, and each of us saw what interested him most, though our limited time made it necessary to omit many things we wanted to see.

After lunch in a government cafeteria, we visited the Department of Printing and Engraving, where we were very much impressed by the six-foot-high stacks of twenty dollar bills. We then visited the Library of Congress, the Supreme Court Building, and the Senate, where we heard Senator Kefauver making a talk. Afterwards we had our picture made in front of the Capitol with Mr. C. B. Deane, our representative.

Next on our tour came the most exhausting experience — physically — of the whole trip. We climbed the Washington Monument. After this tiresome climb we returned to the hotel, had a quick shower, dressed, and had another excellent meal at Thompson's Cafeteria.

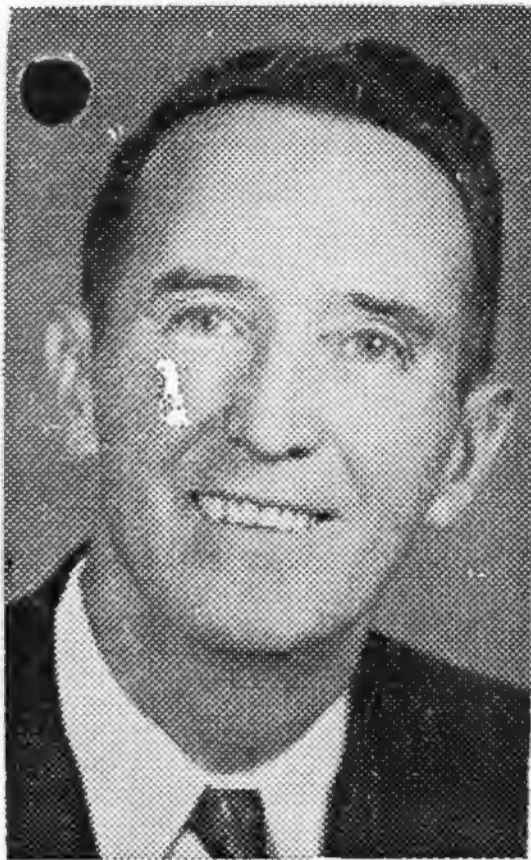

The next morning, Saturday, we visited Arlington, the home of General Robert E. Lee. We were proud that we were Rebels because we saw quite a few "Damnyankees" there. About a mile from Arlington we visited the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, where we saw the "changing of the guard", which occurs every hour. From the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, we journeyed to the airport and to the White House. Both of these places proved very interesting, even though we didn't see President Eisenhower around anywhere. From the White House we went to the Lincoln Memorial, which is a very beautiful monument. On the walls of this monument are carved selections from Lincoln's greatest speeches. One we saw was his Gettysburg Address.

On our way home Sunday morning, we stopped at Mt. Vernon and the Jefferson Memorial. At Mt. Vernon we had a short Sunday morning worship service for the benefit of those

Commencement Speakers

DR. PRICE H. GWYNN, JR.

At the Community Church on Sunday evening, May 31, at eight o'clock, Dr. Price H. Gwynn, Jr., one of North Carolina's leading educators will preach the commencement sermon. Dr. Gwynn is dean of Flora Macdonald College at Red Springs, N. C.

Dr. Gwynn holds the degrees of A. B. and A. M. from the University of North Carolina and a Ph.D. degree from Yale University. He has served as teacher and principal in the Durham City Schools and was at one time superintendent of the Reidsville Schools. He was head of the Department of Education at Davidson College and Director of Christian Education for the Synod of North Carolina. At present he is a member of the Commission on General Christian Education of the National Council of Churches.

DR. E. M. POTEAT

Dr. E. M. Poteat, pastor of Pullen Memorial Baptist Church, Raleigh, will be the commencement speaker for Pinehurst High School on Monday evening, June 1, at eight o'clock in the Community Church.

Dr. Poteat, one of the outstanding Protestant ministers in the United States, is also a noted poet, musician, and author. In 1948 he returned as minister to Pullen Memorial Church, from which he was called in 1937 to Euclid Avenue Baptist Church in Cleveland. In 1944 he was elected president of Colgate-Rochester Divinity School. He was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of divinity in 1946 by the University of North Carolina.

students who had not missed Sunday School and who wanted to keep their good attendance record unbroken. After a short stop for lunch we continued our journey homeward.

At 6:40 o'clock Sunday evening our faithful Activities Bus rolled into the Pinehurst School grounds, and a tired but happy bunch of juniors, seniors, and chaperones disembarked.

Loans and commodity inventories of the Commodity Credit Corporation as of March 31 totaled $3,065,643,000 — loans for $1.9 billion and inventories valued at more than $1.1 billion. The sustained net loss for the nine months of fiscal 1953 was about $30,000,000, compared with a loss of $67,000,000 in fiscal 1952. June is "Dairy Month" in North Carolina.

The Pinehurst Maroon Rebels had an exciting 1952-53 season. The boys lost eight games and won nine. The girls ended the season with twelve games won and six lost. Points made by the girls were as follows: Marcia Black, 364; Barbara Blue, 207; Annie May Morgan, 354; Eloise Garner, 42; Martha Moon, 19; Gail Hobson, 12; Florene Yarborough, 5.

Holding guard positions were Gail Hobson, Frances Oldham, Betty Ruth Robertson, Julia McCaskill, and Anne Hamor. Annie May Morgan was among the forwards selected for the "All-County Team".

Boys on the team made the following points: Larry Hartsell, 214; James Talbert, 167; "Red" Wathen, 170; Gary Wathen, 136; Joe Williamson, 141; Fraser Smith, 130; Charles Garrison, 15; Billy Cole, Tom Shepherd, Leslie Gilliland, Jimmy McCaskill, and Talton Ray, 2 each.

Larry Hartsell, who was voted the most valuable player by his team mates was on the All-County Squad. Much of the team's fine playing was due to

The Senior Class play, "Girl Shy," was presented at the Pinehurst Theater on Friday evening, May 1, to a very appreciative audience. The proceeds from the play were used to buy a gift for the school. The play was directed by Miss Lillian Morris, who has so successfully directed other senior plays for our school.

The cast for "Girl Shy" was as follows: Tom Arsdale, Junior Vest; Oke Stimson, Fred Garrison; Caroline, Marcia Black; Anthony Arsdale, Joe Williamson; Sylvia Webster, Pat Chriscoe; Dean Marlow, Jerry McDonald; Peaches Carter, Jean Robertson; Asma, Carolynne Smith; Birdie Laverne, Pauline Clapp; Barbara Sanford, Clara Sheffield; Alfred Tennyson Murgatoyd, Larry Hartsell; Chuck Mayo, Randolph Black.

Around School

It would be hard to find anywhere a more attractive or better-kept school plant than we have here in Pinehurst. It is one of which the community and the students may well be proud.

The students and teachers cooperate to keep the classrooms and grounds clean and attractive. Not only do we have modern well-kept buildings and attractive grounds, but Mr. Cannon and the school board are constantly improving what we have and making new additions.

Soon after our cafeteria was completed, work was begun on the new elementary school building. This, completed last year, is considered a modern building, and people from many places have come to see it and to study the plan of arrangement and details.

For several months men have been working on our new auditorium, making the foundation and the concrete-steel framework. Soon giant cranes will be patting this framework into its proper place, and then the building will grow rapidly. It should be ready for use next fall.

Football

The Pinehurst football team opened its 1952 season September 17 by beating Red Springs 12 to 7. This was the first home game Red Springs had lost in three years. The next week our team defeated West End with a score of 38 to 16.

The season's first loss was to a strong Robbins team, 37 to 19. Co-captain Larry Hartsell was disabled for the remainder of the season as the result of a broken wrist sustained in this game. Later during the same week, Charles Swaringen suffered a broken arm.

In a game with Carthage, Pinehurst won 12 to 7, marching almost the entire distance of the field for a touchdown in the last quarter. A game with Aberdeen the next week resulted in a score of 41 to 18, in favor of Aberdeen. The season ended by a 34 to 0 defeat by the Southern Pines team.

The season's record was three victories and three defeats. Although this record is not outstanding, everyone can be proud of the fine sportsmanship which the team displayed in both victory and defeat. In two games, Carthage and Southern Pines, no penalties of any sort were called against Pinehurst, a record of which we are proud.

There are two kinds of discontent in this world: the discontent that works, and the discontent that wrings its hands. The first gets what it wants, and the second loses what it had. There is no cure for the first but success, and there is no cure at all for the second.

"Our Past"

CLARA SHEFFIELD

Setting. Pinehurst School
 Characters: Senior Class

Act I: Elementary School

A fall day of 1940 welcomed to school a large group of bright-eyed, excited youngsters, all beginning the first grade. How wonderful it was to be going to school at last! We felt quite grown-up in spite of our pig-tails and snaggle-toothed appearance. Each day brought new experiences in learning, and many were the exciting things that happened.

As we progressed to second and third grades, school was still the most wonderful place in the world. Of course it had its ups and downs. For example, the paddle appeared about that time and was used on "special occasions". And Miss Thorp's dislike for blue jeans and floppy shirts is well remembered both boys and girls. With the patient guidance of our teachers, the first years of our school life slipped by rapidly.

Act II: Junior High School

At last we were in the high school building, but we were not yet allowed to change classes. It was during this year that Mrs. Wedlock, our teacher, took us to Raleigh for a day of sight seeing in the state capital. We went in a chartered bus and had a wonderful trip. At the end of the year we received our certificates and could hardly wait to enter high school.

Act III: High School

Scene I.

After eight years of study and fun, we finally reached our destination — The Freshman Class! We were really a problem to Miss Morris because we were so very green and we were such a noisy bunch. By the end of our sophomore year we had calmed down a little and were more serious. During that year

Wall, our home room teacher, took us to visit the University of North Carolina and the Morehead Planetarium at Chapel Hill. That was a high light of the year. We saw so many interesting things. Mr. Wall helped make our year pleasant. We shall always remember his old blue sweater and his black and white saddle shoes that turned up at the toes.

After a few short months passed, we were thrilled at the thought of being juniors. Under Mrs. McCaskill's direction we sponsored a Hallowe'en Carnival and several square dances to make money for the junior-senior trip to Charleston. This was a wonderful trip and we shall never forget it. It was during this year that we received our class rings. Our happiness seemed complete!

Scene II.

September 1953 found a group of nineteen boys and girls donning a new title — senior! We chose our senior play, "Girl Shy", and after weeks of practice and preparation we presented it in the Pinehurst Theater to a large audience. On Wednesday of the next week we began our trip to Washington and Williamsburg. This trip will probably be remembered as the high spot of our senior year. Soon we were choosing our calling cards, our commencement invitations, our superlatives, and making plans for graduation. Caps and gowns were fitted, pictures made, honors announced and the end was in sight.

Every drama has its ending; out as the curtain falls for us here at Pinehurst High, our lives are just beginning, and the stage is set for the next scene. The seniors of 1953 hope to make this the finest and best scene of the drama as they go out to accept the duties and responsibilities of mature citizens.

The most influential of all educational factors is the conversation in a child's home.

CLASS PROPHECY

PAT CHRISCOE

The years drifted by and the Class of 1953 scattered, as classes always do. Memories, though dear, became fainter and fainter; and to me, as I sat at my desk in Mr. Hal Wallis' office in Hollywood, where I am now employed, came the wish—no, it was more than a wish—a longing, to know something about our old Pinehurst class of '53, to know where each one was and how Fate had dealt with him.

Suddenly the idea came to me to go over next door to the studio where the newest and most marvelous equipment was being used. After being comfortably seated, I pressed a button and these are the scenes that appeared:

There on the screen was a baseball game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers being played at Ebbets Field. During the game two home-runs were made by Harold Clayton, thus winning the game for the Cardinals.

In New York I saw Marcia Black busy in her Fifth Avenue Interior Decorating Studio. Interesting, too, was the attractive apartment, where she and her husband and children live.

Jean Robertson, who married soon after finishing high school, has an attractive new home in Hamlet.

Anne Cole is busy taking care of her family and home near Pinehurst.

Larry Hartsell is now teaching English at Eastern Carolina College, his dear old Alma Mater.

Jerry McDonald is one of the most successful livestock growers south of the Mason and Dixon Line.

Clara Sheffield is at present working at private secretary to Congressman C. B. Deane. She gave up dress designing to take this position.

Junior Vest is the owner of a nice farm just south of Carthage. He has been very successful in growing tobacco.

While in Key West, Florida, after graduation, Carolynne Smith was discovered by a talent scout. Her time is now divided between singing on TV and acting in minstrel shows.

Jack Shaw is the owner of Shaw's Men's Store in Southern Pines. Here may be found the very latest styles and colors in men's clothing.

Joe Williamson is now manager of one of the largest and most popular hotels in Palm Beach, Florida.

Frances Oldham is assistant to her husband in their extensive trucking business.

Mack Hamor is now one of the most famous lawyers in the nation's capital. He has lost more cases than any other lawyer who has practiced in Washington.

Dallas Monroe, president of the Queen City Trailways, says he owes all his success to the training he received from driving Bus No. 60 at Pinehurst High School.

Roy Smith is finally doing what he always wanted to do—nothing!

Pauline Clapp, who married a serviceman, has seen many interesting parts of the country. She is now living in Boston.

Fred Garrison has his master mind busy at work trying to draw up plans for the bridge which will cross the Pacific Ocean.

Michigan State has just lost one of its greatest football coaches, Randolph Black. He could not let the hard work of coaching interfere with the gay life he enjoyed.

Now the picture is fading and the lights grow dim. I have seen each member of the 1953 graduating class and each one seems happy and successful.

The biggest room in the world is the room for improvement.

—Anon.

You can make life a bed of roses—if you put in a lifetime of spadework.

Last Will And Testament

MACK HAMOR

We, the Senior Class of Pinehurst High School, in the year 1953, being for the most part of sound mind, do hereby make our last will and testament.

I

To Pinehurst High School, we leave our undying loyalty and our appreciation for the opportunities offered us.

II

To Mr. Cannon, our superintendent, we bequeath our lasting respect and our gratitude for the kind understanding he gave us during our years in high school.

III

To our teachers, we leave our gratitude for the help they gave us through the years.

IV

To the Junior Class, we entrust the execution of this will; we also leave the wish that they enjoy their senior year as much as we enjoyed ours.

V

To the Freshman Class and to the Sopohomore Class we leave any ability to learn without studying that we may have and hope that they use it to good advantage.

VI

The individual members of this class do hereby leave the following possessions to the underclassmen:

Marcia Black leaves her spare height to Florene Yarborough with the hope that it will be a help to her in basketball next year.

Pauline Clapp leaves her cultivated Yankee accent to Carole Sullivan.

Harold Clayton leaves his skill at home-run hitting and his modesty about it to Tony McKenzie.

Ann Cole leaves her bashfulness to Martha Moon.

Fred Garrison leaves his position as Class Brain to Darius McKenzie.

Jerry McDonald bequeaths his school bus to Winfred Hartsell, along with instructions for setting the "governors."

Frances Oldham leaves her ability in basketball to Julie McCaskill.

Jean Robertson leaves her "come hither" look to Carolyn Frye.

Jack Shaw bequeaths his position as Class Muscle Man to Bobby Willard.

Clara Sheffield leaves her backless dresses to Joyce Cole.

Roy Smith leaves his energy and ambition to Marvin Frye.

Carolynne Smith leaves her dignity in shorthand class to Martha Moon.

Joe Williams leaves his skill in shooting set shots to "Speed" McCaskill.

Junior Vest leaves his "way with women" to Tommy Frye.

Pat Chriscoe leaves her ability to get along with people to Patty Fields.

Dallas Monroe leaves his quiet manner to Charles Swaringen.

Larry Hartsell leaves to Talton Ray his ability to outrun anyone on the basketball court.

Randolph Black leaves his position as Class Preacher to Donald Monroe, who showed such promise on the trip to Washington.

Mack Hamor leaves his place as center on the football team to Annie May Morgan.

There are about 35,000 plants in the U. S. processing milk, butter, cheese, ice cream and other dairy products.

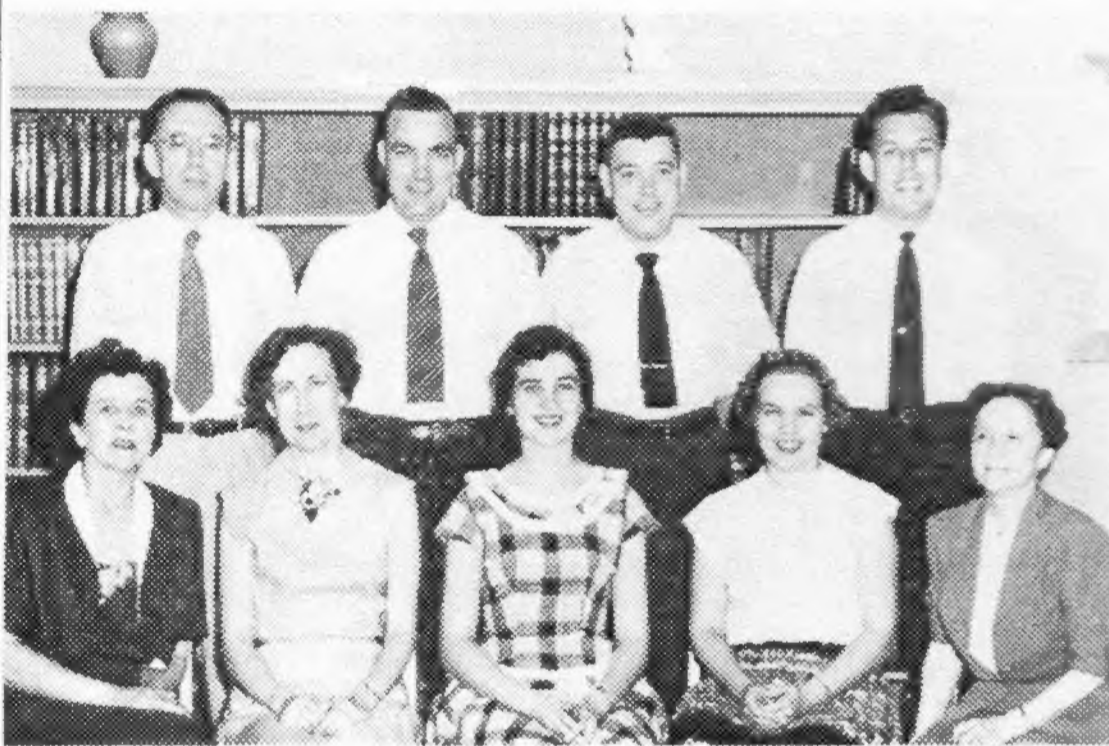

Twenty-three million Americans live on milk-producing farms.
